SWEEPING MEASURES ADOPTED AT THE JOCKEY CLUB MEETING.

Senie of Weighte Get a Raise All Around -Jeckeys' Conduct at the Post Further Restricted-Owners and Horses in the Forfeit List Are Well Looked After,

The Jockey Club held its last regular monthly mesting of the year at its offices, 173 Fifth avenue, yesterday. A number of proposed new rules and amendments were on the docket which were of the utmost importance for the feture of the turf. All were to take effect on the 1st of next month, if carried. The majority were so sweeping in character that horsemen have meen anxiously awaiting the result, as it was the general opinion that, if the Jockey Club had the courage to adopt them, the future success of the turf was assured.

The following members answered the roll call at 4:30 e'clock: August Belmont, J. H. Bradd, Frank R. Hitchcock, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Philip J. Dwyer, Cornellus Fellowes, James Galway, James B. Haggin, S. S. Howland, Harry K. Knapp, Andrew Miller, S. Howland ins, Frank K. Sturgis, W. P. Thompson. and I. S. Thompson. Mr. Belmont presided. James R. Keene was the only conspicuous absentee. Before the more serious business of accepting or discarding the new propositions, Jesse Brown, a well-known Washingtonian, who noted as ateward at the last Washington meeting, was elected a member.

Attention was then turned to the new rules, which were adopted.

The first new rule of importance accepted was that relating to the capacity of tracks for admitting a field of horses. It is worded as fol-

The number of starters in any overnight race shall be limited by the width of the track at the starting post. Every horse shall be silowed five feet of width of the track. The number of starters shall be reduced to the proper number by lot or by divisions of the race at the option of the association. The next feature, which was carried unanimously, was an amendment to the duties of the clerk of the course relating to his keeping a record of persons in arrears. The rule as amended reads:

mmended reads:

The clerk of the course shall be the Secretary of the association; he shall discharge all the duties, whether expressed or implied, required by the rules of racing, and report to the stewards all violations of the rules of racing or of the regulations of the course coming under his notice; he shall keep a complete record of all races; he shall receive all stages, forfeits, entrance money, fines, arrears, and purchase money in aciling races, and pay over all the money collected by him to the Treasurer.

money, fines, arrears, and purenase money to activity races, and pay over all the money collected by him to the Treasurer.

He shall, at the expiration of ten days after the meeting, notify the Secretary of the Jockey Club of all arrears then remaining unpaid.

The forfeit cierk's duties were made more binding. The amendments to the rule follows: The forfeit clerk's duties were made more binding. The amendments to the rule follows:

So long as the name of a person is in the forfeit list no horse can be entered by him or under his subscription for any race, whether acting as an agent or otherwise, and no horse which has been entered by him or in his name or under his subscription, or of which he is or was at the time of entry wholly or partly the sweer, can run for any race, and no horse which has been entered by a line of the series of the satisfaction of the stew which shall be preved to the satisfaction of the stew which shall be qualified to be entered or run for any race. The minimum weight for any horse in any race was fixed at eighty-four pounds.

Jockeys and their conduct at the post were next taken up. This is how the amendment reads:

Any lockey presuming to start or even to put his horse into a trot or gallop, with a view to take any advantage before the flags are dropped, hanging behind, or refusing to obey the commands of the starter in any respect whatever, shall be reported to the stewards. An important amendment, touching upon dead heats, was carried. It will prevent a repetition of one owner compelling another to run off or lose first money when the latter's horse has oulled up lame. It, in fact, places the boot on the other foot, and gives the owner of the crippled horse the option of dividing. The amendment is:

FOOTBALL.

Trinity School's Protest Against De La

Salte Discussed. A special meeting of the football committe of the New York Interscholastic A. A. was held at Cutier School, 120 East Fiftieth street, yesterday afternoon. The delegates present were: C. Henderson Cutler, Chairman; H. Bayne, Berkeley; R. Thompson, Columbia Grammar; F, Faulkner, Barnard; S. Kidder, Trinity. The neeting was called for the purpose of hearing evidence on the protest entered by Trinity School in regard to the game between that team and the cloven of De La Salle Institute for the championship of the association. The Trinity boys claim that they made a touchdown in the second half, which was not allowed by the referee.

This is how the dispute occurred: Trinity had the ball on De La Salle's two-and-a-halfyard line, where it was passed to O'Rourke, who threw the right tackle, and, it is claimed, laid the ball fully three feet over the line. Then ha called down. It is also claimed that the referee did not blow his whistle: and, furthermore,

The committee upon its return announced that It was ready to go on. Counsel for Trinity School spent some time in trying to find out whether the committee and a right to give a final decision on the protest, or whether it had to be referred to the association. The committee announced that the decision of the referree would not be reversed unless it was proven that he was incompetent. That official will be heard before the committee makes its final report.

FIGHTING.

Dan Stuart Comes to Town and Hopes t Sign Corbett and Fitzsimmons,

Before another fortnight elapses sportsmen ereabouts will probably know whether Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Corbett will have it out, at least under the auspices of Dan Stuart of Dallas, Tex. Stuart arrived in this city vesterday morning from Chicago, and when seen by a SUN reporter last evening he stated that he came to New York for the express purpose of bringing the two ble fighters together. This is the last trip I intend to make to this concerned. I am tired running about the country and spending money on wild-goose chases. I am confident, though, that I will gain something on this trip, for I am convinced that both Corbett and Fitzsimmons mean to fight. Both men have told me so, and I believe they both Corbett and Fitzsimmons mean to fight, Both men have told me so, and I believe they are in earnest.

"I never intended to offer any fabulous purses, no matter what the others may do. Fifteen thousand dollars is quite a sum, and there are no strings attached to mine. The pugilists will get every cent due them if they live up to their contract, and I might as well say right here that $15,000 is all i will give. While in this city fintend to see Corbett, and after I get Jim's signature I will go at once to 'Frisco and see Fitz. The contest must be to a finish to decide the championship, and that's the way I intend holding it. My health will not permit me to see Corbett before Saturday or Sunday. At any rate, I'll know definitely by next Monday whether my purse suits Corbett."

Stuart further said that he had a good place to hold the fight, but refused to disclose the location. He proposes to have Corbett and Fitz meet about the latter part of April, but will throw no obstacle in their way if they want to meet at an earlier date. Stuart was of the opinion that Maher and Sharkey would be good drawing cards, and said that he may offer them a purse to fight to a finish.

FINAL BOUTS OF THE R. A. C. Only Eight Men Entitled to Compete Last

At the Knickerbocker A. C. last night the management tried to enforce a rule by which the entries for the boxing finals should weigh in in strict conformity with their respective classes. It was said that the boxers received due notice at the preliminaries on Tuesday night, when it was discovered that the men weighed just what they pleased. Thirty boxers were entered to compete last night, boxers were entered to compete last night, but a bomb was exploded in their ranks when they learned that they would have to scale a stipulated weight. When it was time for the bouts to begin the entry list had dwindled down to just eight men. Of the four bouts only one was interesting, lu the 155-pound class J. Burns and W. Mumford, both of the New West Side A. C., were paired against each other. Their love taps were so affectionals that the referce told them to mix it up. They retused and in the second round Surns torfested to his clubmate. The final bout in this class was the interesting feature of the night. The principals were W. Mumford, new West Side A. HALE STILL FAR AHEAD.

THE IRISHMAN RIDING STRONG IN THE BICYCLE RACE.

Forster, Rice, Reading, Taylor, Schock, Moore, and Smith Are Close Together and Struccillar Hard for Places-Star buck Bents Linton, English Champton, With a lead ranging from thirteen to nearly fifty miles, Teddy Hale, the flying Irishman, gave a merry dance to the six-day cyclists at the Garden yesterday, and, unless something goes amiss, he should win the race easily. He city," said Stuart, "as far as arranging matches not only seems to be in fully as good condition as any other rider in the race, but seems to increase his lead whenever he feels so inclined. While Hale's pluck, condition, and endurance have much to do with his long lead, a great many think that his wonderful success thus far is due more to the peculiar high gear of his wheel than anything else. Hale, along with all of the English riders who arrived here a week or so ago, brought over wheels rigged with a new English wrinkle, which not only allows them to have their wheels geared up to an unusually high degree. but, what is more, it seems to work better on the smooth track than the gears of the American riders. liale's wheel is a 98 gear, while the other riders use gears ranging from 80 to 90. While Hale seems pretty sure of first prize.

there is a great struggle going on for second place, and at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon only fifty-one miles separated Forster, Rice, Moore, Smith, Reading, Schock, and Taylor, who followed Hale in the order named. There was little or ne change in the posttions of the riders over Wednesday, except that Rice, who for two days held second place, was displaced by Forster. At 12:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while Schock was riding up the toboggan slide at the Fourth avenue end of the Garden for the purpose of retiring to his test, Glick came around the turn and struck Schock's rear wheel. Both men were thrown, and by good riding Moore, who was following close behind, just managed to jump over Schock's wheel and escape an ugly fall himself. Schock got a bad fall, but his trainers managed to bring him around all right. While Schock was in his tent, between 1 and 4 o'clock, he was passed by Reading, Taylor, Moore, and Smith.

Later in the afternoon and during the evening

Schock did some great riding, and at 9 o'clock had worked back into fifth place, passing Taylor, Moore, and Smith on the way. The score of the leaders in miles at that hour was:

Hale, 1832; Forster, 1,278; Rice, 1,271; Reading, 1,242; Schock, 1,181; Smith, 1,230; Roore, 1,224; Pierce, 1,122; Maddox, 1,132; Asbenger, 1,123; Casady, 1,123; Cannon, 997; Gilck, 943; Milecol, 838.

ger, 1,125; Casady, 1,125; Osanon, 397; Gilck, 345; Richeod, 838.

Shook afterward retired for a time, was again passed by Smith, and was in sixth place at 11 octook. During the day Rice received a telegram from Wilkesbarre saying that one of its leading citizens had subscribed a burse and had engaged a Pittsburgh trainer, who would handle him for the remainder of the race.

Something like 4,000 speciators saw the weary riders striving for prizes and glory during the afternoon, while in the evening there was a crowd of 8,000 present, which not only occupied about every available seat, but packed every inch of standing room in the arena. While the pluck and endurance of the long-distance riders aroused considerable applause, it was the short sprint races which pleased the criwid heat, and the burst of cheers which greated the winner of these flights of speed nearly took the roof off the Garden. In the afternoon there was a haif mile race for amateurs, divided into four heats of one mile, and the winners rode a half mile in the dial or deciding heat. The first heat was won by L. R. Lefferson of the Harlein Wheelmen; A. S. Jungrind of the Riversides was second, and A. S. Lee of Cohoes was third. Time, 2:222-5. C. H. Tomilingon of the Riversides was Lee of Cobuse was third. During the intermission between the preliminary and final heats Eddle Bald rode an exhibition mile, paced by a tanden, in 2:19 3-5. During the evening there were more sprint races, and Bald rode another exhibition mile. The most pominent event, however, was a ten-mile race between Tom Linton of England, the holder of the world's one hour record, and J. F. Starbuck the noted Pennsylvania flyer. The mea were started on opposite sides of the Garden, and hadrscarcely covered two laps when Starbuck fell at the Madison avenue end. Linton stopped riding and the men were started again. Starbuck drew up rapidly on Linton and caught him on the seventeenth lap. From here until three laps from the finital hiarbuck trailed behind Linton and then ran away from him in a sprint, beating him nearly three-quarters of a lap. The winner's time was: One mile, 2:20 4-5; 2 miles, 4:30 4-5; 3 miles, 7:03; 4 miles, 5:342-5; 5 miles, 12:34-5; 8 miles, 12:34-5; 9 miles, 2::10 miles, 2::10 miles, 2::40. The loser's time was 25:02.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

Massachusetts Solid for Elliott-Important

Meeting at Boston-Notes. The L. A. W. politicians are busy these times in view of the annual election of officers and other features of the National Assembly to be held at Albany next February. After the big meeting at the Grand Union Hotel on Monday night there is little doubt as to the sentiments of the New York State Division regarding the chief office. Several speakers then advocated scrong opposition to the reflection of President Elliott and urged that the State delegates to the assembly should be instructed to oppose the present incumbent. As already told in The SUN, Chief Consul Potter opposed such an aggressive policy and persuaded the meeting to allow the delegates to go to the assembly un-trammelled by instructions. Quite a different line of policy marked the meeting of the Massachusetts Division, held at Boston on Wednesday night. The delegates voted to support President Elliott for reslection.

Although Chief Consul Potter has emphatcally stated that he is not a candidate for the Presidency, his followers persist in putting his name forward, and it is said that the members of the New York State delegation are almost a unit on the question of forcing the postnation on him. With no other strong randidate yet in the field, the situation is necoming interesting, and the sentiments of the other strong divisions of the league are awaited with auxiety.

Several other items of interest to the wheel-Several other items of interest to the wheeling community cropped up at the Boston meeting. Secretary-Freasurer A. D. Peck showed that a large amount of work had been accomplished during the year, and that although the consequent expense had been unusually heavy, there was a balance on hand of $2,180.00. Henry W. Bobin on, Chalirman of the State Racing learnt, suggested that the delegates to the National Assembly should adorte professionals to membership in the league. It was voted to offer a roward of $25 for the detection and averest of any person stealing a bayele from a member of the division. It was also decided that in case George D. Golden a clinics another term as Chalirman of the L. A. W. Hacing Roard, Henry W. Bobinson should be supported for the office.

BILLIARDS.

Spinks Lends McLaughlin in Their Match by 123 Points.

The fourth night's play in the 2,500-point game of billiards between W. A. Spinks of Chicago and Edward McLaughlin of Philadelphia drew a large crowd of cue experts to Slosson's billiard parlors last night. Although troubled with inflamed eyes, Spinks managed to keep the lead, and McLaughlin to-night will have to roll up 623 points to 500 for Spinks to get on an even basis. The game last night was a long drawn out affair, the playing by both men being very tame.

After Spinks had made 178 he complained about the light being too strong for his eyes and asked to have it lowered. This McLaughlin asked to have it lowered. This McLaughlin objected to, and a long argument followed. The men finally proceeded to play, and the referee consented to set as unipper for Spinks, so that the latter might rest his eyes while his opponent played. Spinks made his longest run of the night, sixty-nine, on some brilliant around-the-table shots, while McLaughlin's run of seventy-three was made on masses and cross-the-table shots. The score:

Designer Clapham on Fin Keels.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN-Sir : In THE SUN of last Monday I noticed some remarks of the London Field, and a reply thereto of an American yachtsman, under the head of "An American's idea of the Fin Keel." The Field minkes the statement that a fin bulb was tried in 1887 by Lieut. Tippings, R. N., Naw it is a fact that in 1881 den, I. Garrard of Frontenac, Minn., was making and experimenting with bulb in keels exactly as they are now made by the Herreshoffs and others. I have a number of letters from Gen, Garrard, written between 1881 and 1885, urging me to introduce his bulb fin; also no less than seven fine photographs received from him, showing exactly what his fin was, and accompanied with exhaustive printed descriptions of it as applied to a racheg centreboard shop built in Brooklyn, askiff, and a birch bark cance. While fully recognizing the possibilities for speed twolved in Gen, Garrard's idea, I was unwilling to add its introduction, because then, as now, I saw the objections to excessive draught for racing and cruising. CIGARETTE TRUST POWER, Lawyer Thomas McCarter Defines It in the Jersey Suit.

The proceedings brought by Attorney-General
Stockton of New Jersey in the Chancery Court to dissolve the Cigarette Trust were continued yesterday before Vice Chancellor Reed in Jersey City. Thomas N. McCarter, Sr., who represents the Attorney-General and John R. Miller. upon whose application the action was begun, concluded his argument about noon. He referred to the voluminous testimony which has been taken, and said that it establishes in the most satisfactory manner these conclusions: Before the combination was effected the parties to it were the manufacturers of nearly all the leading brands of cigarettes in the United States, that they were in competition with each other, and that such competition was keen and tended greatly to the profit of the dealers and to the benefit of the customers. The dealers bought of whom they chose, sold to whom they pleased, and at such prices as they chose, and the trade, which was very extensive, was entirely free, regulated only by the demands of the market and by the healthy competition. The purpose of the com-bination was to obtain the entire control of the trade, to suppress all competition, not only be tween the parties to it, but also of all outside of it, and thus control the price in the interest of the combination. It has completely accomplished that purpose by means of the agree-ment of Oct. 17 and the certificate of incor-It was rumored at the New York Yacht Club yesterday that ex-Commodors S.
